Brief description of interest and expertise in Antarctic marine microbial diversity (plankton, sea ice, benthos, invertebrate or fish-associated microorganisms; culture-based molecular, genomic expertise etc.):

Have you already submitted a proposal that falls under the auspices of the Census of Antarctic Marine Life Program? If yes, please briefly describe here.

Do you plan, or will you consider planning to develop an initiative in the near future to participate in the Census of Antarctic Marine Life – Microbes Program?

If you would like to apply for a travel award, please provide information concerning your capacity to contribute to microbial diversity and/or function of microbial biodiversity in Antarctic ecosystems research, and financial need.

If you would like to participate by preparing a 15 minute presentation describing a research program (on-going, planned, or proposed) related to the biological diversity of Antarctic Marine Microbes please provide an Abstract below (Limited to 300 words):
